

PFF Fellow Profile: David Harris

Academic background prior to entering doctoral studies:

- BA in economics from Benedictine College
- MS in economics from Iowa State University

Degree program / disciplines:

- IPhD program with economics as coordinating discipline and social sciences consortium as co-discipline

Courses Taught:

- Principles of Microeconomics
- Intermediate Microeconomics
- Intermediate Macroeconomics
- Money and Banking
- Social Economics
- Introduction to Econometrics

Teaching Interests:

Principles of microeconomics
Intermediate microeconomics
Social economics

Research Interests:

Social economics
History of economic thought

Career Aspirations:

Professor of economics

PFF Expectations:

To obtain a solid foundation of ideas and knowledge regarding teaching principles in general and my discipline in particular

Cluster Institution Preferences:

1. Northwest Missouri State University
2. Park University
3. Rockhurst University
4. University of Kansas